"Breaking the loaves he handed them to his disciples who gave them to the crowds" (Today's Gospel)

Christ has no body now on earth but ours.
He has no hand but ours to feed the hungry and to raise up the fallen.
He has no feet but ours to go about doing good, seeking out those who are lost or who have gone astray.

He has no eyes but ours to see the silent tears of those in pain.
He has no ears but ours to listen with patience to those who need understanding. He has no tongue but ours to speak the word of sympathy, of comfort, of encouragement.

He has no heart but ours to love the loveless to bring in from the cold the rejected and the unwanted.

If there are still hungry people among us today, the problem is not that we are unable to multiply the loaves, but rather that we are unable or unwilling to share them.
