CATHEDRAL OF THE ASSUMPTION NEWSLETTER

6TH. SUNDAY OF EASTER

Vol. 20. No. 27

29th. May 2011

REFLECTION

Each of us has to learn to steer the barque of his own soul in freedom.
We have to learn to master our craft so that we can finally bring it into the port of eternity, which is our true home.

To reach our destiny we need to set our compass
by the laws of the Almighty.
What use would it be, if along the way,
we visited many exciting ports,
if we were to miss the final one?

But we must remember one thing.
The battle is not against wind and wave,
but against our own unruly appetites which clamour for satisfaction, and which fight us for control
at every stage of our voyage.

Therefore, we need an invisible hand at the helm,
a hand that is strong and skilful and wise.
That hand is the hand of Christ, our Captain.
Freedom means to follow the path of destiny
he has chartered out for us.

Though we often resist his efforts to guide us,
and in the name of freedom choose to go our own way,
when we see the lights of the eternal harbour appear on the horizon, then we know
for sure that we are free, free as a child is who lives in a house
where he knows he belongs and is loved
